Notn No 1177, R D, 17th Apr 1916, R G, 1916, Pt I, p 782

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 25, clause (1), section 31, clause (j), and section 75, clause (d), of the Indian Forest Act, 1878 (VII of 1878), the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following rules to regulate hunting, shooting, poisoning of water and setting of traps or snares in the Reserved and Protected forests of the Kanara, Belgaum and Dharwar Forest Divisions, in supersession of Government Notification in the Revenue Department, No 7627, dated the 18th August 1903, in so far as it applies to the Reserved and Protected forests within the said divisions, namely —

I The following acts are prohibited in all reserved and protected forests —

- (a) the poisoning of rivers, or other water, the explosion of dynamite or other explosive therein, the setting of cranes or basket traps for the purpose of killing or catching fish
- (b) the setting of spring guns, snares or traps
- (c) the taking, wounding or killing of—
 - (i) game other than carnivora, bear or pig over water, salt-licks, or paths leading directly to water or salt-licks,
 - (ii) any bird or animal for which a close-time has been prescribed under Act VIII of 1912 during the close-time so
- (iii) such animals as may from time to time be notified in this behalf by the Conservator of Forests provided that any of the above acts may be done with the written permission of the Conservator of Forests, or in the case of snares or traps, of the Divisional Forest Officer

Note—For the purpose of this rule the word "Carnivora" includes tiger, panther, wolf, hyena, and wild dog.

2 Hunting and shooting are prohibited except under a license to be obtained from the Collector or Divisional Forest Officer

3 The forests in each division shall be divided into shooting blocks of convenient size by the Divisional Forest Officer, subject to the approval of the Conservator of Forests

4 The Conservator of Forests shall determine every year which of the blocks in each of the divisions of his circle, the forest of which have been so divided into blocks under rule 3, shall be absolutely closed to the public generally for hunting and shooting, whether for purposes of forest management or for the protection of game. In October of each year he shall publish, according to forest divisions, a list of the blocks so closed, in the Bombay Government Gazette, and copies of the list so published, shall be posted up for information in the office of the Conservator of Forests, and in the offices of the Collector and Divisional Forest Officers of each forest division to which these rules apply

5 Licenses granted under rule 3 shall be of two kinds, viz, district and block licenses. District licenses shall be issued by the Collector of the district and countersigned by the Conservator of Forests, block licenses shall be issued by the Divisional Forest Officer, subject to the control of the Conservator. District licenses shall be valid for any forest of the district for which they have been issued, subject to the conditions of rule 1, and to the reservation in respect of occupied blocks laid down in rule 6. Block licenses shall ordinarily be valid for only one block, but may cover two blocks if there are surplus blocks open for shooting for which no applications have been made.

Provided that wounded game may be pursued into an adjoining block or district.

6 The holder of a district license may hunt and shoot in any forest which has not been notified as closed under rule 1 provided that hunting and shooting by the holder of a district license in any block for which a block license has been issued shall be permitted only when the holder of such block license is not present in the area covered by the license, and if the holder of the block license arrives in the block specified in the license, the holder of the district license shall at once stop all hunting and shooting in such block, if any holder of a district license wishes to reserve entirely any block for his own sport, he must take a block license for such block.

7 With the exception of carnivora, bear and pig, only a limited number of game shall be allowed to be killed in any shooting block in any year. When this limit is reached, the block shall, subject to the exception permitted by rule 12, be closed to shooting for the remainder of the season. The Conservator of Forests shall have full discretion to prohibit driving or beating the forests with men or dogs in any specified block for any animals other than carnivora, bear and pig and to prohibit the employment for tracking, stalking, tying up for carnivora, or conducting drives or beats, of any persons other than those to whom permits to act as "shikaris" have been given by the Divisional Forest Officer, subject to the Conservator's approval.

8 (a) The Divisional Forest Officer, subject to the approval of the Conservator of Forests, shall before October in each year fix the limit of game of each species which may be allowed to be killed in each block during the year (January—December) under the last preceding rule.

(b) The Conservator of Forests shall similarly, before October in each year, determine the number of game of each species which may be killed by any individual during the year (January—December) in any of the forests of the circle.

Provided that the limit of game allowed to be killed may be exceeded with the written permission of the Conservator in particular instances, who may give such permission after consulting the Collector.

9 When any holder of a district license kills any animal of any species, of which the number allowed to be killed has been limited under rule 8 (b), he shall report to the Divisional Forest Officer the species, sex and horn-measurements of such animal and the shooting block in which it was killed.

10 In each Divisional and Range Forest office game books shall be kept in the form shown in the appendix, showing the number of protected animals allowed to be killed, and the number of game of every kind killed up to date.

11 Every holder of a district license must, before shooting in any block, make himself acquainted with the number of game of each species available for shooting, and may not in any case exceed this number.

12 A holder of a block license may exceed the limit fixed for the block covered by his license, provided he does not kill more than the number permitted by his license to be killed by him of any kind of protected animal. Any excess over the limit fixed for the block that may be caused by any holder of a block license falling up to the full number of game permitted to be killed by his license shall be considered by the Divisional Forest Officer in determining the number of game that may be allowed to be killed in such block during the succeeding year.

13 Every application for a license shall state the number of sportsmen intending to hunt or shoot together and every license shall specify the number authorised by it to hunt and shoot. Provided that for the purpose of a block license a party shall be limited to two guns. The Conservator of Forests shall have discretion to limit the number of retainers and the number of dogs that may be taken into the forest.

14 Every license shall have entered on it the number and lands of game which may be killed. As soon as he leaves the district or shooting block, as the case may be, every license-holder shall return his license to the Divisional Forest Officer, endorsing on it the number and kind and the horn-dimensions in the case of protected animals, or length in the case of carnivora and bear of all game killed by him.

15 No application for a block license may be made more than three months or less than one month before the date from which the applicant desires to avail himself of it, provided (a) that fifteen days' notice shall be sufficient in the case of a resident of the district for which a license is applied for, and (b) that a license for a short period not exceeding ten days may be granted as soon as it is applied for.

16 The duration of a license shall be determined by the demand for shooting blocks but shall not ordinarily exceed three months. Provided that a Gazetted Officer may be granted a license which shall be valid only when such officer is travelling on duty within the limits of his charge, to cover the whole year (January—December).

17 No license is transferable.

18 The Collector and, subject to appeal to the Conservator, the Divisional Forest Officer shall have discretion to refuse a shooting license for good and sufficient reasons and the Divisional Forest Officer may at any time cancel any block license and subject to the Collector's approval any district license for any breach of the Forest Act, or of any rule under the Forest Act. Any breach either of the Act or of any rule under it shall render a license liable to cancellation, whether committed by the licensee or by any of his retainers or followers and, in the event of fire breaking out in any forest block for which a license has been granted, (Instructions for the diagnosis of Glanders, Farcy and South African Horse-sickness, and for the application of the Mallam Test)

(1) Glanders is a malignant, contagious and fatal disease, characterised by the following symptoms —
Increased temperature, swelling of the glands under the jaw, discharge of sticky materal from the nose which sticks about the nostrils, ulcers on the mucous membrane of the nostrils, the yellow colour this is also found behind and at the sides of the wind-pipe observed to be covered with a mass of jelly-like material of a greenish On examination of the body after death, the surface of the lungs is

The most remarkable departure from what one expects in a severe disease of this kind is the fact of common observation that the horse of course common to the fever of any other diseases of an acute nature

(2) Farcy is another form of Glanders and presents the following lives for some weeks

animal gets very thin, in some cases dies rapidly and in others course of the lymphatics of the face, lungs become affected, eyes are weak and often discharge, abscesses form along the

One form may pass into the other either in the direction of death or recovery, thus an animal who has well-developed the pharynx and has been ill many days suddenly shows the froth at his nostrils and dies rapidly, and again an animal may at first show well-marked lymph

On examination of the body of the last or least intense form the yellow jelly is found generally distributed in the swellings, of which it

In distinguishing three forms of horse-sickness, it must be borne in to be observed

The symptoms may be summarised thus fever of moderate intensity which recovery most often takes place, and which, if it proves fatal and the great vessels of the neck It is also found among the muscles

7 In horses that are not glandered the local swelling attains its maximum size during the first 15 hours, and by the 24th hour it has almost entirely disappeared. Its maximum diameter is usually about 1 to 1½ inches.

8 Attention must also be paid to the swelling that forms at the site of injection. When the horse is glandered this goes on increasing in size during the second 24 hours after the injection, and it seldom declines before the 3rd or 4th day. The maximum diameter of this swelling in glandered horses varies from 5 to 10 inches.

9 Provided the temperature was normal (under 101° F.) before the injection, it will rise 2° or more (103°—105°) during the next 15 hours if the horse is glandered, but it will remain practically unaffected (under 102°) if the horse is not glandered.

10 The temperature must be taken at the time of injection, and at the 12th, 15th and 18th hours afterwards.

11 The mallein must be injected into the subcutaneous connective tissue, and care must be taken that the whole dose is actually introduced.

12 The dose of mallein for a horse is one cubic centimetre, or 18 minims. It ought to be injected about the middle of the side of the neck, with a clean hypodermic syringe. The best form of syringe is one with an asbestos piston, as the whole instrument may then be sterilized by boiling it in water for five minutes before use.

13 While under the mallein test horses ought to be left at rest in the stable and protected from draughts. The rectal temperature ought to be taken once or twice on the day before the test is applied.

Cold and exposure bring out the disease in horses who have the poison affected by disease and the last named the least

Of horses, mules and donkeys, the first named seem the most severely horse in the lung sickness sudden and acute that the patient dies drowned in his own serum like the being the tendency to serious escapes in beriberi which are sometimes so General exudations of this kind are known in pathology, a familiar instance exudation into the connective tissue which is found throughout the body

The yellow jelly which is found in every case is of course a serious the animal in his own serum from the blood-vessels in the lung which has been described as drowning to aerate the blood this inability is produced by the exudation of fluid

The cause of death is suffocation from inability of the lung substance will develop lung symptoms and die and if a horse is worked at all after he has contracted the disease, he succumb early. Overwork and under-feeding are certain death warrants after an illness of weeks. Horses in bad condition almost invariably symptoms, and pass into the thickhead condition and eventually recover

8 When the temperature gradually rises from the normal to 104° during the first 15 hours and a large slowly disappearing swelling forms at the seat of injection, the horse may confidently be declared glandered.

9 If, with a normal temperature at the time of injection, a horse displays only the temperature reaction, or only the local reaction, the case must be considered doubtful, and the test repeated after the lapse of a week

APPENDICES

Instructions for the diagnosis of Glanders and Farcy

(1) Glanders is a malignant, contagious and fatal disease, characterised by the following symptoms—

Increased temperature, swelling of the glands under the jaw, discharge of sticky material from the nose which sticks about the nostrils, ulcers on the mucous membrane of the nostrils, the eyes are weak and often discharge, abscesses form along the course of the lymphatics of the face, lungs become affected, animal gets very thin, in some cases dies rapidly, and in others lives for some weeks.

(2) Farcy is another form of Glanders and presents the following symptoms—

Increased temperature, the legs swell, presenting an uneven surface, increasing and decreasing suddenly and attended with pain and lameness. Farcy buds form along the vessels of the leg, burst and give exit to a thin purulent yellowish material which generally soon dries and forms a yellow crust on the surface of the ulcer.

II

Instructions for diagnosis of Lymphangitis Epizootica

Nodules varying in size from 1 pe to a hen's egg appear under the skin. These may be connected by lines like veins having the appearance of bridled chains.

The hair falls off the nodules and they burst and discharge thick yellow or blood stained matter. The lesions may be found on any part of the body, but they are most frequently associated with those parts which are most exposed to wounds, licks, contusions, pressure and saddle galls. The disease takes place by inoculation through wounds and may therefore develop from the slightest abrasion. In cattle the nodules form well-defined lumps, but their development is much slower and the lumps are not connected by venulike cords.

III

Instructions for the diagnosis of Struma

There are successive attacks of fever, the first of which might perhaps pass unnoticed. When red spots appear on the mucous membrane of the eyes, the eyes water. There is rapid loss of flesh and great weakness, although in the majority of cases the appetite remains good throughout, no matter how high the fever may be. The mucous membranes of the eyes, mouth, etc., become very pale and then at a later period yellowish. From first to last there is progressive debility and emaciation until dropsical swellings of the limbs and under surface of the body appear. The duration of the attacks of fever and intermissions are very irregular, usually lasting from about one to six days. Death occurs in about six or seven weeks.

IV

Instructions for the diagnosis of South African Horse sickness

In acute cases there is great prostration and distress accompanied by difficulty in breathing. This is followed by wide distension of the nostrils and the appearance of a nasal discharge with coughing. The discharge increases and the animal dies rapidly from suffocation with a foamy discharge round its muzzle. In other cases the course of the disease is slower and in one form the head is found to be swollen. In the latter form the obliteration of the depressions above the eyes and the pendulous appearance of the lower lip are regarded as typical symptoms.
